

STUDENT SUCCESS

Stephanie Bennett, a junior in Automotive Technology, volunteered to Chair the College of Health & Human Sciences Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee.

Stephanie was recently interviewed by Juniper Oxford about the CHHS Diversity Committee and her service on it and will be featured in an upcoming article in the SIU Diversity Newsletter.

Congratulations Stephanie!

Throughout the Fall 2020 semester, SIU has performed well in dealing with the COVID-19 pandemic. In an attempt to prevent the spread of the virus, our course delivery approach was 40% online, 31% face-to-face, and 29% hybrid. As we plan for the Spring 2021 semester, the estimated course delivery mix is 45% online, 28% face-to-face, and 27% hybrid. Considering the increase in online course delivery for spring and being mindful that many students desire and perform better with face-to-face instruction but must now take online courses out of necessity, we must do our part to deliver the best learning experience possible. Below are a few strategies to help create an online course that maximizes learning for all students.

*Create a detailed syllabus that spells out course expectations.

*Use SIU provided technology – Setup your D2L shell with organized course information, which may include handouts, homework assignments, and quizzes/tests. Have everything in one location so students know exactly where to look for assignments, due dates, or assistance with questions.

*Communicate often – Maintain regular and timely communication with students through live video conferencing, email, chat, or short videos. Open lines of communication keep us all on the track to success.

*Be present and provide constant feedback – Hold virtual office hours, grade assignments timely, and review material as applicable. Timely feedback is essential in improving performance.

*Set the standard – Keep students engaged and accountable for work. An online environment does not mean a lower quality education.

*Take pride in your course – Take pride in your course development and work to refine into a quality experience for students. Start early and do not wait until the last minute to create your course. SIU's Center for Teaching Excellence has many resources to help us prepare our online courses. Please take time to visit their web page at: <https://cte.siu.edu/>.

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY FY21 BUDGET INFORMATION

I want to briefly discuss the current budget situation for our college. Just recently, the college was required to make two large budget adjustments, one for $178,058.25 and a second for $769,489. The first amount was our “pay back” to the SIU system for monies borrowed during the 2016 state budget impasse. This was year four of a seven-year pay back plan. The good news is we are over the hump and will complete our debt obligation in three years.

The second CHHS reduction, $769,489, was a big hit as it accounted for ~6% of our budget. State of Illinois budget appropriation for SIU remained flat this year. Therefore, this budget reduction is 100% due to the decline in SIU's student enrollment and the resulting decrease in tuition revenue received. CHHS has been strategic in making these cuts to minimize impact but we cannot proceed with the status quo. Therefore, I'm asking every CHHS faculty and staff member to take an active role to help recruit and retain students for our programs in an effort to make up this enrollment deficit.

Please share good things about SIU with your family and friends and post positive comments on social media. Give details about how SIU is a great institution and why your particular major is an excellent degree to pursue. Be sure to let people know what type of careers graduates pursue with a degree from your program. Knowing how the degree from your program leads to a career can be instrumental in helping potential students choose your program and SIU. With your recruitment and retention efforts along with our major marketing campaign that just started for every program in CHHS, I believe we will see an increase in enrollment for the Fall 2021 semester. Please work with your Department Chair/School Director to learn about ways you can assist with these efforts.

In addition to the two budget adjustments above, we have just been asked to reduce the Fall 2021/Spring 2022 budget by $1,122,980. Since this request is new, we are still reviewing the details associated with this reduction and will attempt to minimize the impact to CHHS as much as possible. As we move forward, more information will be shared through your Department Chair/School Director.

Good News and Congratulations!

CHHS held an Exploratory Student Career and Major Fair on November 5th and 6th. All programs in the college were represented at the exploratory fair. Also, all university COVID-19 guidelines were followed at the event.

A special thank-you to Jeff McGoy, Exploratory Student Advisement Director, Undergraduate Advisement, for encouraging exploratory students to attend and his continued collaboration and support.

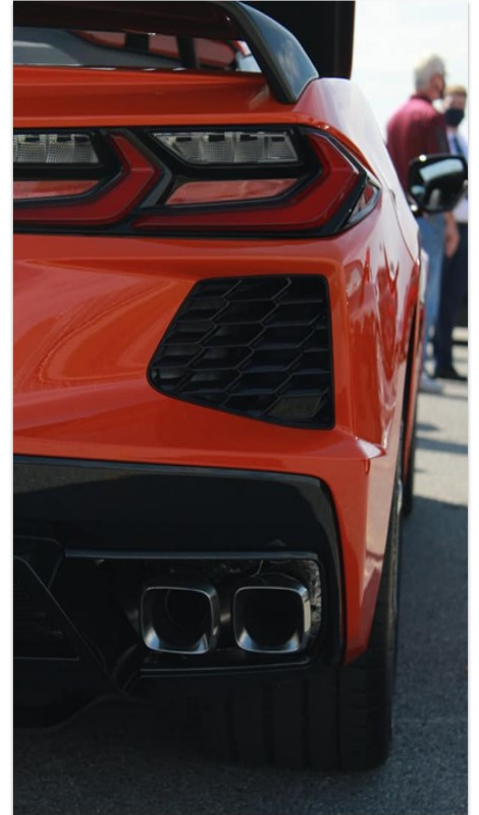

Thank you to the School of Human Sciences for hosting the fair in Davies Gym.

Automotive Technology

On Saturday, October 3, SIU Automotive hosted their annual student car meet. It builds student engagement outside of the classroom as both students and faculty display and share information about their rides and passions. Each year, a vehicle manufacturer is identified as the key supporter and will typically ship in a couple of specialty vehicles to have on display during the event.

Supporting this year's event, General Motors shipped in the new 2020 Chevrolet Corvette Stingray and blackout edition of the Chevrolet Tahoe. This was General Motors' first supported showing of the all new mid-engine Corvette Stingray outside of a major car show in nation. The 495 horsepower and 470 lb.-ft. of torque supercar made an amazing display in Carbondale for the SIU Automotive family.

SIU Automotive recently received several gifts in kind from industry partners.

Thank you, Volkswagen Group of America, for the donation of the new VW Atlas.

Congratulations to Michael Behrmann and SIU Automotive for hosting the October Carbondale Chamber of Commerce monthly membership luncheon.

Aviation Management & Flight and Aviation Technologies

Congratulations to Karen Johnson, Associate Professor, Aviation Technologies, for receiving a $1.2 Million grant with Man-Tra-Con from the The Delta Regional Authority. The full story is available at: https://thesouthern.com/news/local/man-tra-con-receives-1-2-million-to-implement-aviation-maintenance-technician-program/article\_e28ec3e6-edd2-54d6-9b41-e189c02adc2a.html

Karen Johnson, Associate Professor, Aviation Technologies, recently earned a Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction when she successfully defended her dissertation titled, “The Effects of a Simulation with Worked Examples on Troubleshooting and Episodic Memory in Maintenance Technician Students.” Congratulations!

The Honorable Robert L. Sumwalt, Chairman of the National Transportation Board (NTSB), participated in a Video Conference with Professor Joe Ruiz and many others, faculty and students, from Aviation Technology, Aviation Flight, and Aviation Management and Flight. Full video is available at the following link: <https://youtu.be/btpanfxDJ0s>

SIU Aviation recently purchased 5 new Cessna 172 aircraft for the Aviation Flight program! Please give a round of applause to Mike Burgener, Ken Bro, and the entire Aviation program!

Congratulations to the Aviation program on the recent NUI submission to offer a Masters of Aviation Management 100% online.

School of Architecture

Congratulations to Craig Anz and Rolando Gonzalez-Torres for their presentation on Community Design at the Illinois Innovation Network Research Conference on Sustainability.

Congratulations to Mehdi Ashayeri for having a presentation on Environment and Health accepted for the Illinois Innovation Network Research Conference on Sustainability.

Congratulations to Jane Nichols, Associate Professor and Program Director for Counseling and Rehabilitation Education, for her nomination and acceptance as a Southern Illinois Council for Independent Living Board Member. SICIL offers a wide variety of services and support to enable persons from all backgrounds to live and work independently.

Congratulations to Jennifer Sherry, Associate Professor, Dental Hygiene, and Mallory Wheeler, 2020 Graduate of the Dental Hygiene program, on receiving the American Dental Hygienists' Institute for Oral Health Rosie Wall Community Spirit Grant.

Mallory initiated the discussion for an independent study project with Mrs. Sherry, and they worked together on the project. This grant was specifically written for the Carbondale Warming Center. Carmelita Cahill, Carbondale Warming Center Director, has recently received the grant funding.

Mallory grew up on a farm in Tiskilwa, Illinois, and wanted to write a grant that would help individuals who did not have many other sources of assistance. Knowing these individuals did not have the basic need of shelter met, she hoped to help with their oral health and overall health needs. This grant will be utilized for oral health kits and healthy snacks for the guests who come to the Carbondale Warming Center. Thanks to Carmelita Cahill for her exemplary work for the Carbondale Warming Center and all of the volunteers.

Congratulations to the Communication Disorders and Sciences Undergraduate program for undergoing a successful IBHE program review.

Congratulations on receiving approval to offer the RN to BSN portion of the Bachelor of Nursing program 100% online.

Congratulations on Faculty and Students in the MHA program for the following article submission: Nash J, Dierkes M, Shaw T, Penrod D, Aydin S & Collins S. (2020 Submitted). Student Perspectives on the Shift to Online Learning due to COVID-19. Distance Education.

Congratulations goes to Mitchell Dierkes and Jacqueline Nash, both MHA students! Their co-authored research titled: COVID-19 Creates Potential Increase of PTSD for Healthcare Professionals has been accepted for presentation at the 9th Annual International Conference on Health & Medical Sciences. Greece, Athens, May 2021. (Both are pictured below.)

Briana Gosier, SIU Alumna

BS Health Care Management

Master of Public Health (MPH)

Manager of Operations
Homecare Assistance
Atlanta, Georgia

HCM Program Featured Alumni - Briana Gosier earned her Bachelor of Science degree in Health Care Management in 2015 and her Master of Public Health degree in 2019 from Southern Illinois University. While at SIU, Briana was a part of the Student Healthcare Management Association (SMHA) and a member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society (2013-2015).

Briana began her career in healthcare 14 years ago as a Certified Nurse Assistant, working in various healthcare settings: skilled nursing facilities, assisted living, private duty care and homecare. Following that, she served as a community liaison and a medical records specialist. Now, as the Manager of Operations for Homecare Assistance in Atlanta, Georgia, Briana is responsible for overseeing the inner office operation cycle, human resources and recruitment functions, and working closely with the Client Care Manager team to ensure the smooth functioning of all internal and external operations to support the growth of the market. Furthermore, she serves as the point of contact for communications with the finance, operations, and human resource departments bridging communication between the field offices and supporting departments. Briana plans to stay with the organization for and work her way up to a director's role.

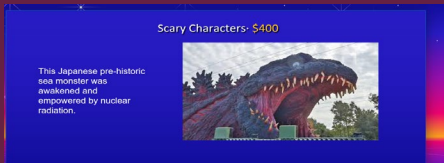

When asked if she had any advice for current Health Care Management students Briana said, "Be realistic with your career goals. Growth in the healthcare and leadership industry takes time and a willingness to glean from seasoned leaders. Make it an educational goal to remain abreast of the emerging and ever-changing healthcare market and focusing on the ability to grasp and understand quickly changing technology and innovation. As emerging leaders in healthcare, we are the cheerleader of sorts for our teams. It is imperative to be able to communicate the shared vision of the organization so all team members are aligned. Healthcare is teamwork, and all members of the team must share common goals. You must take charge confidently and lead compassionately."

In her free time, Briana enjoys spending time with family and binge-watching shows on Netflix.

School of Human Sciences

Valerie Boyer, Maria Franca, and Diane Muzio recently hosted a Virtual Halloween Jeopardy event for first-year Communication Disorders and Sciences graduate students. Dr. Muzio put a tremendous amount of work into developing the questions and was a fabulous Alex Trebek!

Congratulations on receiving approval to offer the Masters in Public Health 100% online.

Congratulations on receiving approval of the DEME to offer the Masters of Social Work 100% online.

DCFS University Partnerships Program

Thinking about a career at Illinois DCFS after graduation?

The University Partnerships Program is a unique collaboration between Illinois DCFS and 13 Illinois universities to make the department’s placement curriculum available to students who are pursuing a bachelor’s or master’s degree and want to work in child welfare after graduation.

The purpose of the program is to equip and develop the department’s future workforce by providing an opportunity for students to gain more knowledge about the department and learn how they can positively impact the lives of Illinois children and families through a career with DCFS.
